Our Jacket Slash.

Been giving you some close figures on jackets for some time. Now we go it a long ways better and throw out the whole line at

One-Third Off.

It's an opportune time for you, just before Christmas. You can get a substantial jacket for a trifle more than you pay for some article fit only for ornament.
$6 jackets, $4.
$7.50 ones, $5.
$10 ones, $6.66.
$12 ones, $8.
And so on all through the line.

The Dress Goods Slash is still on. It's been a success from the start. The big piles laid out at 29, 39, 49, and 59 cents prove an irresistible attraction for money savers.

They ought to. They all contain many prices at less than half original prices.

T. Holiverson.

Mr. Cartwright, a Crook county rancher, was in town today. He says the cattle business is good, but sheep are no better.

Bi Geer was in town today. He says prosperity has begun, as he sold a horse for $100 the other day, and a cow for $30 cash.

State Superintendent G. M. Irwin, Thursday, attended a meeting of the board of regents of the Monmouth State Normal School.

TWO EDITIONS

Saturday's JOURNAL will contain a complete social review of the week, with a sketch of Willamett Medical college. Social and religious notices

MONDAY'S JOURNAL will be an advertising edition of state original political matter and will go to the leading men of every county in the state.

Yew Park Revival.

Old-time salvation has come to Salem! The power of God fell upon the people last night and Israel got the old-time shout upon her; some walked the floor praising God, and one fell under the divine power and lay prostrate for nearly an hour. This proves that Israel's God is still alive. These brethren believe in full salvation and preach the fourfold Gospel. They believe that the death route is the only way to glory. They do not try to frighten the people into the kingdom but they lead them by the way of Sinal, showing the power of the holy ghost sent down from Heaven. Come let us go up to the house of the Lord and see for ourselves.

COUNTRY SCHOOL.—The best entertainment of the season will be given at the Congregational Church next Wednesday evening. Full delegations from the Country School of long ago will be present giving a rich program.
Messrs. Riley, Bentley, Belle, Gilbert, Hall and many other gentlemen.
While Mrs. Chas. Riley, Mrs. Bayne, Mrs. Branson, Mrs. Lyles, Mrs. White, Mrs. Jones and others will appear in the exercises. Should you miss it, you will miss the best of the season.

DISCRIMINATION

In Favor of the Railroads.

How a Supreme Court Decision Blocks the Work of Equalization.

While the papers are filling their columns with the number of bonyard mures and billygoats in Oregon, the corporations are escaping their attention entirely. To read the Oregonian and Statesman one would think there was no such thing in existence as the Southern Pacific Railroad. The fact that its roadbed is assessed at $17-408.50 a mile the moment its track crosses the Oregon line would not be published by those papers for ten dollars a line.

The assessment of these Pacific roads at $2,000 to $3,500 per mile in Oregon is a farce. Jackson county has heroically raised the assessment to $10,000 a mile, and the entire assessment of the Southern Pacific railroad should be raised to from $7,000 to $10,000 a mile at least.

THE DIFFICULTY in the way of the board is that by an Oregon supreme court decision the roadbed of a railroad is classified as real estate, and the law requires the State Board to raise or lower values by CLASSES so much PERCENT.
So in order to lower Jackson county's railroad assessment they must lower ALL real estate with it. If they raise railroad assessments in other counties they must raise all other real estate assessments in the county.
This difficulty makes it easy for the railroad company to argue for reductions, but it is very hard to get a raise.

The whole matter will be argued before the state board of equalization on Saturday. The board may take it into their heads to place a new construction upon the law under which they act, and carry a new case to the supreme court. As it now stands this rank injustice to all other property interests in Oregon cannot be overcome.

The board will fiddle away on raising or lowering billygoats while the Southern Pacific company pays about one-fourth the tax in Oregon that it does in California.

THE BANKERS
appeared before the state board today.
A committee of three from Portland, and E. P. McCormack and John H.
Albert, of Salem, had hearings. M.
S. Woodcock, of Corvallis, also made an arrangement. Saturday the board will hear the railroad attorneys.

DIED.

STEADMAN.—At the family home, corner of High and Union streets, Friday, December 18, 1896, Jay, only son of Mrs. Edie Steadman, aged 11 years, 6 months and 26 days.

At 9 a. m., Saturday, the remains will be taken to the Lone Oak cemetery, in the Waldo Hills, where they will be interred.

BOW.—At the Chemawa Indian Training school, Thursday December 18, 1896, Millie Bow, aged about 10 years.

Deceased was a pupil of the school and was received from California.
Millie had always been sickly and her death was caused by a complication of diseases. Funeral services were conducted this morning, and the remains were interred in the cemetery of the school.

This is the first death among the pupils of the school for over one year.

CORRECTION.—It seems THE JOUR-NAL was misinformed in its issue of Thursday in stating that John Green, one of the charges at the Chemawa Indian Training school, had run away from that institution. It appears the boy had gone to the steamboat landing and being absent from the school a little longer than seemed necessary, some person furnished THE JOURNAL with the information that the boy had runaway from the school.
The correction is gladly made out of justice to the management of the school and it might be well to state that there has not been a single escape from the school during the administration of the present management which has heretofore been an almost weekly occurrence.

COMING ATTRACTION.—Commencing next Monday night the Royal Marionettes and 'Humpty Dumpty' Company will occupy the opera house for one week, playing at popular prices. They have just finished a two week's engagement in Portland, where they have played to full houses. Take the children to see this funny company. Professor Zera will appear in "Black Art," something never before seen in this city.

Great Mendelssohn Oratorio

By the Salem Choral Society This Evening.

Under the auspices of the Salem Choral society this grand musical production will be rendered, with the assistance of the best talent in Oregon. Prof. W. F. Werschikul, of Portland is engaged to act as conductor, while Prof. R. A. Heritage, director of the Choral society, has charge of the general management.
Prof. Emil L. Winkler, the famous young pianist, assisted by Miss Genevieve Hughes, will supply the accompaniment. Mrs. Edgar E. Courson, Portland's renowned soprano soloist, and Mrs. Walter Reed, the noted alto, have been secured for the leading parts. Prof. Heritage, with his superb bass voice, and H. G. Kundret, tenor, furnishes the male voices.

This is to be the greatest undertaking yet attempted by our Choral society, which with its chorus of one hundred voices, has made grand strides under Prof. Heritage. Speaking of their work, that gentleman says:
"The Choral society has very thoroughly mastered the choruses and with the delightful solos of Miss Bloch and Mrs. Reed, the rendering of this magnificent Oratorio will be enjoyed by all, and will do much to encourage good music in this state. Our people always patronize first-class entertainments, and especially home enterprise, so the house will be filled to overflowing."

REPLACING

Head-Gate in the Mill Race.

Property Owners Are Circulating a Petition.

Under orders from the managers of the Salem Flouring Mills, Contractor C. F. Roy and a force of men this morning began the work of replacing in North Mill race, the head-gate, the property of the mill company, that was seriously damaged by the high water during November. The old head-gate was located in the race just east of High street and was not sufficiently strong to withstand the pressure of the immense volume of water caused by the heavy rains.
Since the head-gate was carried away, the water has greatly damaged both banks for a distance of nearly a hundred feet below the point where it was stationed.

A new head-gate is being constructed at a point about 200 feet east of the old one. As soon as the water can be shut off from the mill race, it is the intention of Contractor Roy to flume the race for a distance of several hundred feet below the old gate so as to insure no further damage to the banks of the race when the
